

FEVER SUSPECTS IN QUARANTINE

NOT CERTAIN THAT THEY HAVE THE YELLOW FEVER.

Several Passengers Have Been Released and More Will Be Set Free Soon.

New York, July 20.—Health Officer Doty visited the quarantine islands in the lower bay, where the fever suspects are, returning later to the quarantine station. Three passengers taken from the steamship Segurancia, namely, Miss Heckler, Henry Boyd and Miss Wempe, were released, and also two members of the crew of the Morgan liner Eldorado, which arrived yesterday from New Orleans, and who had been held for observation owing to elevated temperatures. They were transferred to the city on the tug Governor Flower.

The four passengers of the Segurancia detained at Hoffman island owing to elevated temperatures are quite comfortable today, and if all goes well will be released tomorrow, as it is certain that they have not got yellow fever.

The ten members of the crew of the Segurancia are pleasantly situated at Swinburne island, in the two new contagious disease wards recently erected. Of this number only two are seriously ill. Dr. Doty, the port health officer, said he could not definitely state at present whether these men are suffering from yellow fever. The bacteriological examination would not be completed before tomorrow morning, and then it would be definitely determined whether the men had yellow fever.

TO DISCUSS SCANDALS!

Secretary Wilson of Agricultural Department Visits President.

Oyster Bay, July 30.—Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department will visit Sagamore Hill tomorrow for the purpose of consulting with the President about the cotton leak and nitro culture scandals. It is understood that the secretary will present to the executive the names of a number of other officials in his department who are believed to have business connections "on the side," like Prof. George T. Moore, who resigned on Friday, and their resignations may be demanded by the President. The officials who knew of Prof. Moore's business "deals" and failed to report the facts to the secretary may also be called upon for explanations or resignations, as the President is determined to put an end to the peculiar style of "graft" exemplified by the latest scandals in Mr. Wilson's big department. If no law can be applied to punish public servants who make use of government information for private gains, the President will probably ask congress to pass the needed legislation next winter.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Ethel, Kermit and Quentin, attended the morning service today at Christ church and Theodore, Jr., taught his class of boys in the Sunday school.

LAW'S VALIDITY IS QUESTIONED

TEST OF STATUTE FORBIDDING
RAILROADS TO COMBINE.

In a Suit Growing Out of the Absorption of Other Lines—May Reach Supreme Court.

Columbus, July 30.—The constitutionality of the law prohibiting parallel railroads from consolidating is to be tested in the courts of Ohio.

The natural consequence of this litigation is that the officers of the Hocking Valley railway are on the ragged edge as to result, for they fully realize that great interests are at stake for that road. To all practical effects the Hocking Valley has absorbed the Ohio Central lines and the K. & M. road, which parallel the H. V. It has been known for several years that the Hocking Valley officials control the other two roads, but many of the lower officials have been kept separate.

The merging of the three properties has gone to the extent that all of the loaded trains run north over the Hocking Valley and all of the empties run south over the Ohio Central lines. By that switching of trains the minimum grades are encountered for the heavy trains on the V. H., while the maximum down grades are found on the O. C. line. In that manner engines can haul larger trains at a largely decreased expense. It is said that empties on the O. C. lines over a mile and a half in length can be pulled by a single engine.

The litigation was started in Gallia county, where some person had a grievance against the roads for alleged discrimination, and forced the prosecuting attorney to take action.

It is understood that the case will finally land in the supreme court for a final decision. Should the decision be adverse to the road, it will be far-reaching in its effect, for a number of roads in the state have violated the provisions of the law. The final verdict will be watched with great interest, not only by railroads, but by the people at large.

CARROLL COUNTY DEMOCRATS MEET

FULL COUNTY TICKET PLACED IN NOMINATION.

Only One Contest—Convention Was Enthusiastic—The Ticket Is Considered a Strong One.

Carrollton, July 29.—The Carroll county Democratic convention was called to order at 1:30 p. m. today for the purpose of nominating a full Democratic county ticket. The convention was dominated by Mayor Wm. Maffett of Carrollton, the leading Democrat of the county.

The convention was called to order by President Frank Harsh of Harrisburg, and Ed. Lawler of Center township was made secretary.

The only contest of the day developed for commissioner, and the nomination was easily captured by Edward Boggs of Harrison township, who beat John R. States of Center by a vote of 25 to 9.

Ex-Auditor Robert Brothers, who followed Tinline, Republican, in office and made it possible by his expose of Tinline's method of collection fees for the county to recover quite a sum illegally drawn from the treasury, was tendered the nomination for auditor, but refused to make the run for business reasons.

Herman Klotz of Malvern, deputy auditor under Robert Brothers, was tendered the nomination for probate judge, but as he had already made preparations to teach school and could not make the necessary canvass for votes, declined the honor.

The convention was quite enthusiastic and good will prevailed, every one seeming to think that a strong ticket had been put in the field, and one which ought to win. No resolutions were offered or passed. The ticket is as follows:

Representatives—James A. Lawrence of Lee township.

Probate judge—G. W. Speaker of Magnolia.

Auditor—W. J. Whalen of Sherodsville.

Treasurer—Elmer Leggett of Leesville.

Sheriff—H. H. Kibler of Dell Roy.

Commissioner—Edward Boggs of Harrison township.

Infantry directory—Long term, D. M. Aldridge of Monroe township; short term, Hugh Marshall of Fox township.

Surveyor—M. M. Preston of Leesville.

Coroner—Dr. D. H. Shaw of Dell Roy.

The delegates to the senatorial convention which will be held later in Canton are as follows: John W. Wiggins, J. N. Markley, H. H. Coghill, Frank Boyd, John R. Slater, E. F. Lawler, D. L. Everhart, J. P. Fox, James Murray, O. P. DeFord, George Snively, Armstrong Hendrix, N. J. Whalen.

SUIT AGAINST C-A.

For Alleged Damage to Celery Farmer's Crop.

A suit for $790.50 has been begun against the Canton-Akron Railway Co. by William and Peter Heckman of Lake township. The plaintiffs allege that they were damaged in the amount of the suit by the failure of their celery crops for several years past. The cause of the damage is said to be the fact that the railway company laid its tracks on an embankment and failed to provide sufficient drainage for the surface water, and the celery beds of the plaintiffs have been flooded as a result. Rice & Souers filed the petition.

POLICE QUIETED THE ZIONIST CONGRESS

SUNDAY'S DEBATE PROCEEDED IN ORDERLY MANNER.

East African Colonization Scheme
Dropped—Adhere to Original Program of Return to Palestine.

Basel, Switzerland, July 31.—The police Sunday took strenuous action to stop the rioting which has marred the Zionist congress since its beginning, and all spectators were excluded, while police officers were placed on duty at various points inside the hall. The debate on the East African resolution then continued in an orderly manner, all persons being given an opportunity to be heard.

Finally, after a debate that lasted all of the day, a resolution was adopted which will effectively end any more agitation among the Zionists as a body for the East African or other colonization schemes. It provides for the adherence to the original Basel program, which asked for the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine. All other colonization schemes are to be rejected, and the resolution winds up by thanking the British government warmly for its proffer of lands in East Africa. The hope is also expressed that England will aid in supplying the needed funds for the new Jewish state in Palestine. The adoption of the resolution precipitated a warm discussion, during which Israel Zangwill took the floor and denounced Max Nordau as a traitor to the cause of the Jews. Three of the leading advocates of the colonization scheme fainted during the session, being overcome with their emotions.

It is believed that the outcome of today's session will be a split in the Zionists, and that the territorialists will now form an organization of their own.

Father and Daughter Drowned.
